CIS is logging all tweets with the words “igf2013”, “igf13”, “igf”, “best-bits”, and “genderit” during the Intenet Governance Forum going on in the Bali this week, and making it available in downloadable files.

To enable research by those who don't want to mess around with Twitter's APIs, we are making available CSV files available to the general public. These files can be opened up in any spreadsheet software (including web-based ones), or even in a text editor.

These files will be updated with the latest version at the end of each evening in Bali.

If you have any ideas as to other keywords we should capture, or about visualizations that we should engage in, do get in touch with pranesh AT cis-india DOT org.
